FORTY-NINTH YEAR NO. 32.

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, JULY 23, 1926

PRICE, $1.50 A YEAR

World's Largest Wheat Field Yield 30 Bu.

Wheat From This Great Farm Will Sell For About $35,000 More Than Land Is Worth at Present Prices — Average Yield of 30 Bushels.

The sight of four giant combines is going to get at least 122,380 bushels of wheat off that field. By next winter it probably will be sold for at least $150,000.

That is some $35,000 more than the land is worth, at the present price of $30 an acre.

This has wheat growing come into its own in Southwest Kansas. Ten years ago every acre of this champion field was virgin soil, never broken by plow and ranged only by cattle, successors to the buffalo.

Charlie Dunham is a renter farmer, and so is barred from voting with Tom Hopkins, Tom Gray, Mrs. Ida Watkins and other big land owners of this part of the state as the "wheat king" of the sector. But he probably is raising more wheat on his rented acres than any man in the state. He has 4,800 acres of wheat, including the great great field south of Copeland, and a 1,000-acre piece north of Santa. Besides, he has 1,800 acres of land summer fallowing corn, and the rains of the summer are helping to make it a bumper crop. Along with unbroken soil and other summer fallowed land, Dunham farms an even nine thousand acres.

In 1919 Charlie came out to his present location and rented the great field from James McAdam, banker-landowner of Minneapolis, Kan. McAdam rents part of it for one-third of the crop, part for one-third and part for having it plowed and sown. The 1,000-acre piece north of Santa also is owned by McAdam.

In his first five harvests, Dunham has seventy men around his farm to help put the wheat in stacks with binders and barges, and later to burn it. The harvest season was a formation around this world's champion field. For days the grain has been Back East on the old home farm, where grand-father used to brace the plowshare against the stubborn hill-sides, they still think an 80-acre field is a good sized piece of land. In the Mississippi River states a quarter section is a big field. And farther west an unpartitioned section is nothing to laugh at.

But down on the Southwest Kansas ranch of Charlie Dunham, south of Copeland, the largest wheat field in the world—3,840 acres—draws little attention. Charlie himself shrugs his shoulders and hopes it won't hail until his four combines finish reaping the gold from that yellow sea.

Flat as a gridiron. For days, now, the four combines, each cutting a 16-foot swath, have been moving majestically in tandem formation around this world's champion field. For days the grain has been the red barn, 60x32x20 feet, is jammed from floor to gables with wheat—thirty-five thousand bushels. A granary overflowing with eleven thousand bushels. Thirty-five steel tanks, with red painted circular rooms, hold one thousand bushels of grain apiece, are scattered about the farm yard. And still the great field has a good sized core of waving grain. The figures show Charlie Dunham

Yellow Springs To Vote Two Teachers Chosen On Water Works Bonds

A movement is under way in Yellow Springs to get waterworks for that village. Plans are being made to have a vote on the necessary bond issue this coming November election. There is a small system now in use from the College plant.

BACK FOR VISIT

Wilson Walker, a resident of this place many years ago, was in town yesterday calling on former friends. He finds many improvements about town and upon inquiry learned that a great number of his former acquaintances have "passed on."

WILL IMPROVE OWN STREETS

South Charleston has turned down an offer of the state highway department to take over the street connecting the Columbus pike on each side of the village. The reason given was that with the state in control the property owners would have to pay for what ever type of street the state would determine upon. The village committee decided to guarantee the upkeep of the street.

Says Time Is Right For Making Change In Sheriff's Office — Htis Daughertyism

Ed. Dean expresses himself as one much interested in the candidacy of Ohmer Tate for Sheriff at the coming primary election on August 10th. Mr. Dean thinks we have reached the time when there should be some new blood injected in that office. Conditions the past four years have not been what they should be in a county such as this.

Mr. Dean says that he is satisfied that Mr. Tate has all the qualifications for the duties of sheriff. He will not only give him his support at the polls but expects to lend him aid in interesting others to do the same. He is also of the opinion that Greene county has had enough of the Daugherty brand of political management and wants to see the Daugherty element eliminated.

Three Autos Damaged; Wreckless Driver Cause

Three automobiles figured in a mix-up Tuesday evening about a mile out of Xenia on the Columbus pike. An unusual feature was that two of the autos were from Cedarville.

G. A. Shrodes, accompanied by Michael Ryan, highway foreman, were driving towards Cedarville. As they near the Chitty farm they were about to meet the machine of Amos Frame and family and Misses Annis Huff and Jean Morton.

With only about fifty feet of space between them John Ryrd, colored, a mechanic in the Swiggart garage, Xenia, attempted to drive between the approaching automobiles at a high rate of speed. Seeing that he could not make it and was to hit the Frame car, he held back and rammed directly into the Shrodes sedan and then swerved the Frame car.

Mr. Shrodes could not control his machine and it went to the ditch with great force but no one was seriously injured. Mr. Shrodes sustained a cut on the arm and Mr. Ryan a bruise on the head. There was no one injured in the Frame car.

The three machines were more or less damaged, so much so that they were put out of commission. Sheriff Sharp was called but no action has been taken. Witnesses say that it was nothing more than a case of wreckless driving on the part of Ryrd.

Blackmore Indicted By Grand Jury

Crosby B. Blackmore, who shot and cut the throat of Mrs. Anna Smith on the Andrew farm, June 30, was indicted by the grand jury Monday, on two counts, one for shooting with intent to kill and cutting with intent to kill. Blackmore and Smith, the husband, were co-tenants.

The trouble started when Blackmore demanded two gold coins that he had given Mrs. Smith to keep for him. Bertha Webb, colored, Xenia, was indicted for stabbing George Rogers, colored, June 18.

Agnew White was indicted for assault and battery. William E. Terrell for burglary and larceny. William Riley, burglary and larceny.

Joe Kenyon Injured At Paper Mill

Joe Kenyon, paper mill employee, was injured Saturday morning when a big rafter fell against him while he with other employees were taking the old roof part of the mill. Seeing that the piece was going to hit him and would probably knock him to the cement floor 18 feet below, he held to a rod. In doing so the piece hit him on the arm and hands and cut one arm and mashed the fingers on another. Dr. J. O. Stewart dressed the wounds, taking seven stitches to close the cut.

Charles Shepherd In Mayo Hospital

Mr. Charles Shepherd of Chicago, well known here, was operated upon several days ago at the Mayo hospital for gonorrhea. Mr. Shepherd is improving as nicely as could be expected. Dr. Nancy E. Finney, who has been attending clinic at that institution for several weeks, witnessed the operation, and returned home Saturday.

Attorney J. A. Finney and wife of Xenia were in Rochester, Minn., at the time, Mrs. Finney being a sister of Mr. Shepherd.

Thrashing Engine Blown Friday Eve.

A thrashing engine on the farm of L. A. and G. E. Smith, south of Xenia was wrecked last Friday. The explosion occurred about nine o'clock. A Ford car was heard to stop near the Smith home shortly before the explosion and it is thought that the charge might have been placed by the parties in that car. No motive could be assigned for the act.

New Physician At O. S. & S. O. Home

The O. S. & S. O. Home Board at a meeting in Columbus Saturday increased the salary of the resident physician from $1,800 to $2,500. The position had been filled by Dr. A. C. Messenger temporary following the resignation of Dr. Middleton. Dr. T. F. Myler, Washington C. H. was appointed to take the place. Dr. Messenger was not an applicant.

THREE MINISTERS RESIGN

At this time three M. E. pulpits will be vacant at the end of the Conference year in this county. Rev. V. P. Brown, Trinity, Xenia was first; Rev. Bennett, Cedarville, second; and Rev. F. W. Stanton, First M. E., Xenia the last. The latter will leave the ministry for a year to improve his health.

THAD BROWN LEADS RACE FOR GOVERNOR

Thad H. Brown

Secretary of State Thad H. Brown, the leading candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, made a brief stop here last Friday morning while on his way to Urbana. Mr. Brown had been touring the Seventh District as part of the lower counties in the state and reported that he was very well pleased with his reception and the support promised him at the coming primary. Mr. Brown has a good record as a public official and is worthy of support. His experience in state affairs makes him the logical candidate.

A member of the Cowdy-Marshall organization let out to a confidential friend a few days ago that the W. C. T. U. has promised to endorse John Baughn for Sheriff this coming week. The party hearing this information made no unusual comment but quietly delivered the information to the Herald. It was only another Marshall-Gowdy flourish of the past that is for Ohmer Tate for sheriff.

The big Republican organizations from the west are coming out strong for Mr. Tate for governor.

Chicken Thieves Now Having A Harvest

Get out the flint lock. Three pound yellow legs are in demand. If not the flint lock better wire the hen house door to the bed springs for some one may even take the hen house.

One night last week J. C. Townsley C. H. Crouse, Rev. Harriman, Mrs. McDonald and Dr. J. O. Stewart lost a good sized number of chickens.

Either Dr. Stewart has a choice breed or his crop of yellow legs are kept handy we do not know. The Dr. does know that eleven more disappeared Wednesday night.

Women work day and night to raise chickens. Protective Association officers work nights to land the thieves. They are sentenced such as a recent one from this county. Then the politicians can get them out for a twenty-five dollar fee. The one in question was given a sentence of one to fifteen years. He served something like thirteen months and was granted a parole.

We are in a wonderful age of reformation—in Greene county.

as fast as the Legion boys hear of the underhanded attack made on their organization they will resent it in no uncertain terms and treat it as it should be treated.

One of the things that is making this campaign more or less interesting is the manner in which deputys were so bountifully offered four years ago in the sheriff race. The reaction from those promises now has a biting effect.

Boss Marshall has accepted orders and comes out with an endorsement for Myers Cooper, the Cincinnati millionaire, who Hynicka of Cincinnati, and Matse, Cleveland, want for governor. Boss Marshall is never adverse towards following the string of gold that might somehow branch out where the wading was fine.

Xenia Attorney Died Monday

Harry C. Armstrong, aged 59, for many years a practicing attorney in this county, died at his home in Xenia Monday evening, after an illness of several months. He was the son of John M. and Esther Allison Armstrong and was graduated from the Xenia high school in 1882 and from Lafayette College, Pennsylvania, in 1886.

He leaves besides his widow, one daughter, Miss Josephine, and a sister Mrs. J. H. Whitmer. Burial took place at Woodland cemetery.

Boys And Girls Are Having Good Time

About seventy young folks are enjoying a week's outing at Antioch Glen this week representing the members of the various clubs under the direction of the Farm Bureau. The program combines recreational and educational features with other events that is making the stay of the young folks one joyous week. County Agent J. R. Kimer is in charge of the camp and is assisted by Miss Pauline Jones, A. A. Neff, Malcolm Finney, Miss Mary Coy, Miss Genevieve Hawker and Miss Ora Hanna. There was a fair attendance at the all day picnic Wednesday when parents and friends gathered. The fact that harvest was on kept many interested persons at home.

Heat Records Being Changed This Year

The heat of the past few days has sent everyone to the shade that could possibly take advantage of it. Some new records are being established for this section. Tuesday the mercury reached 94 in the shade while Wednesday found it at 96. Wednesday night at ten o'clock it stood at 88 on Main street. During the afternoon the mercury at the corner of the opera house rang up 116 with Old Sol beating it in the face. May harvest and threshers are finding the summer time just a little above ordinary.

Brings You Cheer and Courage

DR. FRANK CRANE

Dr. Frank Crane, noted Eastern writer, who enjoys one of the largest daily reading audiences in the United States, will be with us after this week. Heretofore Dr. Crane confined his writings to a syndicate of daily papers such as the Ohio State Journal and Cincinnati Times-Star. He has now taken on another field that will greatly extend his audience.

FATHER SHOT BY OWN SON SUNDAY EVENING

There was a father and son contest on the Harry Woosley farm just over the Clark county line last Sunday evening at 6:30—and the father lost.

Charles Andrew, 65, is dead, having expired Tuesday in the Spring-City Hospital as a result of gunshot wounds followed by blood poisoning. The father was shot by his son Vernon Andrews, 26, a farm hand on the Woosley farm. The entire load entered the left side just above the hip.

There are various reports out as to the exact nature of the trouble between the father and son. Woosley is said to have been talking with the Elder Andrews when the boy appeared. He was angry and when twenty-five feet away fired with the above result. In an instant the father fell and the boy is said to have kicked his father in the face. By this time Woosley grappled with young Andrews and prevented him using the gun again. The gun belonged to Woosley but had been loaned to kill crows.

Andrews secured his wife and the old automobile, a Buick, and started away. Clark county authorities informed Greene and Montgomery officers to be on the lookout. The first report was that a son of Woosley wanted and later changed to young Andrews. By this time the boy had passed through Cedarville on his way towards Xenia and Dayton. He has up to this time evaded the officers.

LIBRARY NOTES

There are very few people, who do not enjoy a motor trip, especially if the distance to be traveled is over good roads and the number of miles not too many. However, there are a few motorists—in fact more than a few—who will undertake a cross-country trip, for they have made up their minds in the beginning not to expect boulevards all the way.

The last four words with an addition of a fifth "Boulevards All the way" make the title of the artist-author, James Montgomery Flagg, who describes in his inimitable style a motor trip from New York to Los Angeles and return that he and Mrs. Flagg took recently as a honeymoon trip. He declares that motoring is the one topic about which all Americans lie, except himself. It is true that he employs hyperbole, exaggeration and if pushed to it, even fantasy, but otherwise it is a strictly truthful account of this cross country motor tour. Equipped with a wealth of misinformation and six new tires Mr. Flagg and the Motor Queen—such as he styles his companion—began their discovery of these United States and what a variety of cops they encountered.

It is a lively and laugh-provoking tale, rich with the artists feeling for beauty and told with genial gusto. Mr. Flagg, the artist, has caught the humor and charm of his own pages in the illustrations, and through the medium of his brush again touches the high spots of that eventful coast to coast journey. Its perusal is quite worth while, for the reader, if he has motored any at all, can well appreciate and live over again almost similar experiences of his own. The book is now on the Greene County library shelves waiting to be read and enjoyed.

ANONYMOUS LETTERS

Why do people write anonymous letters to newspapers? Accomplishing nothing, and less than nothing, in the way of spreading their own ideas and theories, nevertheless they do not get half a dozen such letters every week which might fear that its importance in the public estimation was waning.

As a rule the anonymous letter is thrown into the waste basket half read. Once in a long while one of them contains some really useful information. Sometimes they are so annoying that their abusiveness is ignored and other readers of the paper are allowed to join in the editorial laugh at the ignorance or the absurdity of the nameless critic.

Perhaps the anonymous letter writer is content to "get it off his chest." Very well! But don't send any unsigned communications to this newspaper. They will not be published.

HOT WEATHER ADVICE

Let us suffer too much during the hot waves of this summer, may we remind you that these are good rules for everybody:

Dress lightly, keep out of the sun as much as possible, eat enough but not too much, and don't swallow ice water or other cold drinks all day long. Hot tea, without sugar or milk, is better than any of them, and the warm or hot bath is more cooling in its effects, than the cold one; for, except the most rugged, don't get scared as long as perspiration is free. When it stops and the skin gets dry and feverish, then look out for yourself, and do it instantly.

Fruits and salads are estimable foods in hot weather, but so they are in cold weather, too, and it is wise to remember that starvation is not a good preparation for meeting any emergency.

MANY CONGRATULATIONS

The exposure in the Herald last week relative to the number in which the Elizabeth Lytle estate had been handled by the courts in this county brought us many compliments not only from members of a very large family in the county but from scores of their friends.

Without an exception because of his long record of service to the community citizens is proof that the time has come to break the hold of the Gowdy-Marshall organization. Seven years in settling an estate that today can be closed in 36 hours is certainly long enough to permit any executor or administrator to act. Seven years to be deprived of one's own property is positively ridiculous. It has been now almost a week since this matter was given the public, and at this writing Mr. Watt has received no notice that his property is yet available.

The Herald only touched the high spots in settling that estate and what Mr. Watt has had to contend with. There is additional information that could be given in addition to what was put in black and white last week. The remarkable thing is that with all the inquiry we could make from many different angles we have not heard of a single denial from any source that there was a statement false or even distorted.

Mr. Watt is determined that he be recompensed for the penalty put on the estate as a result of negligence of Mr. Gowdy, the executor. He has been denied the use of dividends from stocks that belong to his family and interest will be demanded on this.

There is a motion on record in the Probate Court asking for the removal of Judge Gowdy as executor of this estate—still no action.

The desperate effort being made by the Gowdy-Marshall organization to retain a strangled hold on the affairs of the county is proof that the followers must be enjoying a profitable reign and through selfish motives insist on keeping control, irrespective of the loss it may cause any or all citizens in the county.

Take this matter home to your self or your family. Suppose something would happen to some one or more of the large families in the county. Suppose it would happen to the Williams, the Suttens, the Whittington, the Weavers, the Turners, the Smiths, the McClellans, the McPhersons, the Millers, the Kellys, the Joneses, the Paulkners, the Deans, the Bickets, the Andersons, or a score of other large families in the county. Bring this matter home to your self and your relatives and we are sure every fair minded citizen will disapprove of the practice that has been put in force in this county by the Gowdy-Marshall organization.

THE MELLER MURDER

Don Meller, editor of the Canton, O., News, was murdered in cold blood by representatives of the underworld. No one thinks any thing else than his attitude in driving out the gamblers and underworld citizens in his city cost him his life. The fact that men are serving time in prison as the result of his campaign to clean up the city angered this element but the price he paid will ever stand as a tribute to his memory for the great good he did his city.

The work will not be discontinued and the immoral element be permitted to gain control of a city like Canton. Ex-Gov. Cox, owner of the News has placed Charles Morris in charge, a worthy successor to Don Meller.

Canton is an industrial city with all kinds of people. Politics ruled the day and graft and corrupt methods made it possible for the thugs, gamblers and boot-leggers to thrive. The political situation was such that as a result of civil service rules the Chief of Police could not be removed from office.

Canton has a soiled page in her history all because the public has not been on the job. When crime and hoodlums rule politics and a city then the public reaches a stage of fear to check wrong doers. It took Don Meller months to awake the public conscience. He gathered evidence that the officers refused to get and corrupt public officials went to prison.

Some official may be asleep at the switch without much of a wreck but when the citizenship of a large or even small city naps at the switch, then a great wreck takes place. And Canton's standing before the world is that of a wrecked and wicked city.

COLLEGE NOTES

Students are coming nearly every day to inquire about their courses of study and to locate their rooms for next year. The present indications are that the attendance of last year will be surpassed. Many inquiries relative to Greene County Normal School are coming in. The full quota required by the state for this school is twenty-five. That number will be easily reached and the outlook is that there will be more than that. The two years normal for elementary teachers is becoming quite popular. A larger number than ever before has enrolled in the four year course for high school teachers.

The courses of study offered by the college are Liberal Arts, Education, Science, Agriculture, Religion, Theology, Music, Physical Education.

Reports from the various Summer Schools for the training of teachers show that Latin is coming back into its own and that at present teachers in Latin are next to the first in demand.

To meet this need, Dr. McChesney is offering a special training course in Latin for teachers and it will also give college credit. It consists in three months rapid review of first year Latin, and the remainder of the year to be taken up in the rapid reading and review of syntax and literary features of Caesar, Vergil, and Cicero from the standpoint of teaching all of these in high school. Now is the time for people who have rooms to rent to inform the college authorities.

BAND DREW LARGE CROWD

The band concert last evening drew a large crowd to town and the concert was thoroughly enjoyed by the public. The band boys are to be thanked for their public spirit in giving of their time and talent to entertain the people without cost.

Such entertainments should be encouraged by the merchants and we should have more of them. Business was stimulated as a result.

GREENE COUNTY FAIR

Officials of the Greene County Fair are fast completing arrangements for one of the best fairs in the history of the organization. An excellent speed program is assured and the prospects are good for a large list of entries in all departments.

The board has made no change in the price of admission this year. It will be 50c for adults with a charge of 25c for children under 12 years of age. Vehicles 25c.

There will be greater interest this year in the club work and the exhibits. There will be a Grange contest, Inter-County Quilt Tournament, and contest for essays and posters for the Greene County Library.

Another Flapper There Was

By JANE OSBORN

(Copyright.)

EDWARD NORTON, aged twenty-two, and Marian Kayes, aged twenty, had been "playing round together" all the afternoon. They had joined some of the other young people at tennis for an hour or so, then they had gone to swimming.

Now they sat on the hotel veranda. Marian looking so lovely after her romp in the ocean that a first glance invited a second.

She and Edward Norton were talking easily, frankly, like two young boys. They were talking about college fraternities, it happened, and Edward said he knew the grip of a certain order, not his own, and in order to show its intricacies to Marian he had to clasp her hand in his. She bunched dreadfully the first time as there were repeated and hasty claspings. Then their fingers came apart and they sat and sucked the cooling beverage through straws, the while Marian swinging her slender young legs from the railing of the veranda where she had perched herself.

Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Smith, who sat within the curtained drawing room, watching Edward and Marian, had spent their girlhood some thirty years ago. In those days girls did not wear knee-length skirts nor one-piece bathing suits, and they did not shingle their hair.

"Just see them holding hands out there," said Mrs. Smith to her companion, "and look at that girl's skirts. I actually caught a glimpse of her knee-bare knees. It's really disgusting."

"Oh, I think something ought to be done about it," said Mrs. Brown. "And the things they do," added Mrs. Smith. "They don't think any thing of going from one roomhouse to another dancing and eating—and sometimes it's tomorrow morning before they get home. And the boys don't propose the way they used to. They discuss marriage as two men would a business partnership. Sometimes the girl suggests it first—with a blush—and then they talk it over. Oh, it's really awful."

Now it happened that when their friend Edward Norton was there, these two middle-aged women said what they said in their true young voices could not be heard above the ocean's ceaseless roar, but what these two middle-aged women said could be heard by them. As they sat there trying to decide whether they would take a walk or just sit and talk, they tried not to indicate to each other that they were hearing the voices inside the window. Edward, however, was beginning to feel a trifle embarrassed.

"Listen," said Marian when Mrs. Smith had made the last remark. "Are you looking at that there will be more than that. The two years normal for elementary teachers is becoming quite popular. A larger number than ever before has enrolled in the four year course for high school teachers."

The courses of study offered by the college are Liberal Arts, Education, Science, Agriculture, Religion, Theology, Music, Physical Education.

Lesson for July 25

THE PASSOVER

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 12:1-49. GOLDEN TEXT—Christ, our Passover, is sacrificed for us. PRIMARY TOPIC—The Story of a Feast. JUNIOR TOPIC—The First Passover Feast. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Memorial Feast. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Meaning of the Passover.

1. The Passover instituted (vv. 1-23).

1. The date (v. 2).

With the institution of the passover came a change in the order of time. The common year was tolling on as usual, but with reference to God's chosen people the order was interrupted and everything was made to date from this event.

2. The lamb set apart (vv. 3-5).

The lamb was to be a male without blemish, indicating that it must be both representative and perfect.

3. The lamb was killed by the whole congregation (v. 6).

This shows that it was not for the individual only, but for the entire assembly. The setting apart of the lamb was not sufficient. It must be killed, for "without the shedding of blood there is no remission of sins."

4. The blood of the slain lamb was to be placed upon the side posts and lintels of the door (v. 7).

The destroying angel passed through the door posts of the houses where the door posts were sprinkled with blood (v. 23). This blood was the evidence that a substitute had been offered for them.

5. Israel feeding upon the lamb (vv. 8-10).

This denotes fellowship. The lamb roasted signified the action of fire in God's judgment at the cross. The head, the legs and puritanism thereof show that in the substitutionary sacrifice the understanding, the walk and all that pertains thereto were involved. This shows that the atonement of Jesus Christ involved His obedience to law as well as His suffering in the stead of His own. The eating of unleavened bread signifies that no sin is connected with or allowed in fellowship with Christ. Leaven signifies corruption (1 Cor. 5:6-8). The Israelites did not put away leaven to be saved from the destroying angel, but being saved because under the shadow of the blood they put away leaven, that is, evil, in order to have fellowship with their Redeemer. The bitter herbs connected with it, however, suggest the bitterness of Christ's suffering.

6. They ate the passover ready for action (v. 11).

Their loins were girded, their shoes were on their feet, and a staff in hand. The girding of the loins betokened separation from sin, and preparation for readiness for service. The feet being put on indicated their willingness and readiness to march out of Egypt. The staff in hand indicated their nature as pilgrims leaning upon a support outside of themselves. They were to leave behind them the place of death and darkness and march to the promised land.

7. The uncrucified denied participation in the feast (vv. 43-49).

Circumcision was typical of regeneration. The significance of the requirement is that only those who have become new creatures by the power of the Cross have a right to sit at the passover feast.

8. The significance of the Passover (vv. 24-28).

It was a memorial institution, calling to mind the deliverance of the Israelites from Egyptian bondage. This was to be taught to their children from generation to generation when they came into the land.

9. The Awful Judgment (vv. 29, 30).

At midnight the Lord smote all the first-born in the land from the first-born of Pharaoh that sat on his throne unto the first-born of the captive that was in bondage, and all the first-born of cattle. There was death that night in every home throughout Egypt where the blood was not found. A great and awful cry went up from the Egyptians for there was not a house where there was not one dead.

10. The Great Deliverance (vv. 31-36).

So mighty was this stroke that Pharaoh called for Moses in the night and requested him to be gone with his flocks and herds. The Israelites hastily made ready for their journey. They demanded of the Egyptians jewels of silver and gold and raiment. The word "horrow" in verse 35 means "demand" instead of the sense in which we use it today.

HANNA'S GREEN SEAL PAINT

Protection--- In August as well as January

Constantly, 365 days-in-the-year, good paint protects property against the destructive effects of hot summers and cold winters. Moisture is kept from penetrating the wood surfaces, and quick changes in temperature cannot harm the building if it is properly painted.

To get the maximum in the protecting power of paint use Hanna's GREEN SEAL. It forms a tough film over the surface, impenetrable by the weather. The surface is kept insulated from the elements that would age and destroy it.

LUNCHEON DESSERTS

For the noon meal, when dinner is served at night, the dessert should be a very light one.

A dish of fruit, a small cake or cookie, a gelatin pudding are all desirable desserts for a light meal.

Jelly Fluff.—Take half a glass of jelly and the white of one egg; beat until stiff and the mixture will stand up alone. Heap in sherbet cups and top with a little egg white mixed with sugar or a bit of whipped cream.

Another nice fluff which is well liked is prepared as follows: Grate a medium-sized apple and mix with sugar to taste, add an egg white and whip until stiff. This may be served with a thin custard sauce, ice cold, or the fluff heaped over small cup cakes.

Emergency Desserts.—Steam any leftover cake and serve with marshmallow sauce. Mix one cupful of brown sugar with three tablespoonfuls of flour, add one and one-half cups of boiling water and cook until smooth, add a generous grating of nutmeg and two tablespoonfuls of butter with a dash of lemon juice and rind. Just before serving have the sauce boiling hot and add a few marshmallows cut into quarters.

Caramel Cornstarch Pudding.—Brown one-half cupful of sugar until it forms a syrup in the pan, then add a pint of boiling milk; stir until the caramel is dissolved—this will take time. Add two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch mixed with a little cold milk and cook until the starch is thoroughly cooked. Pour into sherbet glasses and garnish with a spoonful of whipped cream topped with a piece of preserved ginger for each glass.

Snowballs.—Spread cooked rice on a flat dish over squares of coarse muslin wet in cold water. In the center of each place a canned peach or apricot, or pear. The carefully and steam ten minutes. Serve with a sauce prepared by thickening the fruit juice from the can, adding a little butter to make it richer.

FAMOUS FORTS IN U. S. HISTORY

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

It Kept the Northwest Under Our Flag

One February day in 1770 the British flag was hoisted down from above Fort Sandusky on the western shore of Lake Erie. George Rogers Clark had won the old Northwest for the United States. One August day in 1813, an army advancing under the English banner against Fort Stephenson on the Sandusky river in Ohio, rolled back in defeat before the withering fire of its garrison of Kentucky riflemen. George Croghan, a nephew of George Rogers Clark, had saved the old Northwest for the United States.

Fort Stephenson barely deserves the name of fort at all. It was only a stockade built at the head of navigation on the Sandusky river, but it was important because it commanded the approach to two important bases of supplies for Harrison's army in the War of 1812.

When General Proctor with 600 British regulars, accompanied by 3,000 Indians under Tecumseh, appeared in northern Ohio, Gen. William Henry Harrison ordered Capt. George Croghan to evacuate this post. But Croghan believed that with his force of 100 men he could hold it against Proctor, and his confidence was shared by his six youthful subalterns, none of them more than twenty-one years of age. Harrison reluctantly gave his permission for the attempt to be made and Croghan set to work to strengthen the old fort as much as possible.

He had only one piece of artillery, a little six-pounder, which the soldier affectionately called "Old Bess," and when Proctor appeared before the fort with a force of 1,200 Indians and regulars and some heavy artillery, a successful defense seemed hopeless. But Croghan refused Proctor's summons to surrender and was not even frightened at the British threat that he might not be able to control his Indians if he had to storm the fort.

After bombarding the fort all night Proctor sent a screaming party of 300 men against the walls and although Croghan's men met the attackers with a deadly rifle fire, they came on bravely. Just as they sprang into the ditch surrounding the fort, a masked port-hole was thrown open in one of the blockhouses and "Old Bess" poured out a veritable blast of death upon the British. That proved the deciding stroke in the battle. Proctor retreated precipitately. The American supply depots were saved, Ohio was spared the horrors of an invasion by the Indians and history generally agrees that the successful defense of Fort Stephenson saved the Northwest.

Wheat Of Fine Quality; Price Above Average

Wheat harvest and threshing has brought out the fact that this section has more of a wheat crop than was dreamed of a few months ago. Not only is the yield extra good for the amount of straw but the quality is better than for some years. Many pieces of wheat are reported to have produced more than thirty bushels to the acre but several have tested as high as 62 pounds with the lowest around 60 pounds. The price is much better than last year ranging from $1.30 to $1.35.

How To Check The Chinch Bugs

Chinch bugs are gain prevalent in some sections of Ohio. Following wheat cutting the bugs pass from the cut fields of small grain to adjoining corn fields. This moving to the corn fields gives the farmer a chance to destroy great numbers. But quick action is necessary if the insects are to be controlled. A strip of crude creosote is laid on a line between the fields and this will prevent the bugs from moving from one field to another.

S. CHARLESTON LIBRARY

After waiting many years South Charleston is to have a public library made available through the wills of the late E. D. and L. H. Houston. The money was tied up due to the failure of the Houston interests. The building will be 30x60, one story with basement as an assembly room. The library will be under the direction of the school board. It is expected to have the building enclosed by early winter.

Old Harry
We are so accustomed to referring to Satan as the "Old Harry" that we thought it given to the origin of such an expression. "Old Harry" is merely the modern form of "Old Hairy," a name given to the devil because of his supposed hairy appearance.
